Green Point, Antrim Green Point is a small village in County Antrim, Northern Ireland. It is situated on the eastern shore of Belfast Lough, 3 miles south of Portrush. The village is designated as a retail park with numerous car showrooms, showrooms, and offices, while it has a grade B-listed pub, The White House. History The White House Inn (Irish: An Áras) was built in 1796 to a design by the Ulster architect John Barber. It is a large two-storey manor house with a portico porch at the front. The village is also the home of a number of car dealerships. The Green was the name for a section of land on the northern end of the old borough of Portrush, then County Antrim. The "Green" was not the larger part of Greenmount but a small square section near the quay. The village of Greenmount was a little further inland. Later, Greenmount, together with the Green, was absorbed into the town of Portrush. About 14 miles from the centre of Belfast, the village is overlooked by the Linacres and Ballacrye sugar refineries, built in the 19th Century. At the time of their construction, these were the largest sugar refineries in the world, and the sugar beet was harvested from some fields 5 miles from the village itself. Sport The village football club is Greenmount United F.C. who play in the NIFL Premiership and the R.S.C.A. Premier Division, having gained promotion from the NIFL Championship in 2017. The football club play at Carville Park and hold a number of social events throughout the year including monthly club nights. The village also has a cricket club who play in the 50b96ab0b6
